UBER HUBER ISSUE 129

Dear ,

It's December and we are into the home stretch of Christmas orders. We have a number of customers who deem it appropriate to scold and abuse our staff. While we understand customers can be anxious about their Christmas orders, we hope that our staff can be shown more respect and courtesy when there are issues with or desired changes to their orders. We set certain rules regarding Christmas orders because of how we run our operations, and our staff are simply carrying out their duties. We truly appreciate any patience shown to them.

I used to eat my fair share of nougat while living in Australia and it doesn't come prettier than our new arrival of Bramble & Hedge nougat which is almost too beautiful to eat. My children are very much in love with the new Movenpick yoghurt too and I'm sure my family will stock up on it.

Excite your appetite!
